Over and over again

We're flotsam and jetsam, we're bubble and squeak
We're leftover dust from the stars
We fly through the air with the greatest of ease
We go everywhere in our cars
We've walked on our moon, made some of our own
Peering out into the dark
But still we can't seem to just all get along
While the world continues its arc instrumental bridge

We bump and we scrape, rub off the rough edges
And polish ourselves quite clean
Are we everything that our egos allege
Can we say that we know what it means
But it's something to do, the old springs anew
Six ways from Sunday dinner
You pay all your money and you take your chance
Though no one is ever a winner (x3)
