Composer(s): David Graybeard
Using Capo?: Yes

instrumental over first two lines of verse

It's those knee-length boots and those sidelong looks
And that salty, scorching smile
Those tattered jeans, and that sweet routine
And that disregarding style

instrumental over first two lines of verse

It's that tassled chassis, so sleek and sassy
Like she wants to take you back in time
That feline movement, when she is groovin'
And those mournful, bedroom eyes

And it's plain to see, it's plain to see If she took you for a ride Yeah it's plain to see, it's plain to see
That she could blow your mind
She could blow your mind

instrumental over first two lines of verse

When you see her move, around the room
Your heart beats out of time
It steals your breath, like a pleasant death That lasts for just a while instrumental over first two lines of verse

If you see her, you may dream her Eyes are watching out for you If what it seems is what it means Then I sure do envy you refrain

add: She could blow your mind
