

Cassandra's Lullaby

BMI: 79740943

Key: Am
Composer(s): David Graybeard

work in progress

Am G Fmaj7 E7
As breezes lightly soothe the trees

Am E Am
The branches sway in time

Am G Fmaj7 E7
The coolness in the air today

Am E Am
Has quieted my mind

Am G Fmaj7 E7
If every day could be like this

Am G Fmaj7
I could feel alive

Am G Fmaj7 E7
In quietude I'm rescued by

Am E Am
Cassandra's lullaby

I want to fly through Saturn's rings
And swim in Titan's seas
I want to know if life exists
Beyond this pale blue sphere
I want to stay and see it all
But I can't hope to try
All I have to relish now, is Cassandra's lullaby

The end must come, the gulfs must grow
The relentless tidal flow
Time will end, all will be cold
Nothing left to know
Her sister Helen's beauty fades
Cassandra has been right
I name the breezes after her
Cassandra's lullaby