I'm entranced by your shape

By lines within your face

By the glistening of your lips

G

By the touch of your fingertips

Bm

By the depths behind your eyes

A7

By the warmth behind your smile

By the color of your skin

And the promise held within, and

I'm ready, to do anything at all

I'm ready, to be at your beck and call

I'd do anything, to be your one and all

I'd do anything, to be your one and all

You had me at first sight
When I saw you there that night
As you walked in through the door
My eyes called out for more
I have no right, I see
To own who you might be
But give me half a chance
Give me more than just a glance, cuz

refrain

I want to bury my breathless face
In the warmth of your embrace
I want to wrap around
The words that go unmouthed
I want to delve the depths within
Or at least to just begin
To know you through and through
To lose my self in you

refrain
