

So Damn Easy

BMI: 79740927

Key: Am
Composer(s): David Graybeard

Am Haunted by the howling djinn, G turning toward the fear within
F Surrendered to the numbing voice, E sifted from surrounding noise
Am Whispering the things I see, G bartering into the real
F I sing it with my heart and soul, E before I'm gone or I grow old

F And now, G it takes control Am

C G Now, it will be whole Am

F And breathe, like it's so damn easy Am

C And breathe, like it's so damn easy Am

Sitting here, I feel the flame, behind the door, beyond the pain
Witness to the rising sun, stranger to what I have done
Naked on the birthing floor, arrested in the search for more
Hampered by the conscious mind, reflecting on its own demise

And now, the scene unfolds
Emerging from the mold
Revealed, like it's so damn easy (x2)

Weathered by time and sin, toughening of heart and limb
Belaboring the choices made, considering that it will fade
Wondering what else could do, breathless just to hear the muse
Bustling behind the scenes, like some old ghost in some machine

And now, it has transpired
Now it's breath unwired
On its own, like it's so damn easy (x2)

Shuddering into the night, I sleep alone in fitful fright
Returning to the place again, where mind expires and dreams all end
Nothing left, it's all been spent, hellish borne or heaven sent
The cycle done, the thing complete, uncertain if it will repeat

And now, that it is evident
Now, will it be resonant?
And sound, like it's so damn easy (x2)