In the thicket of my mind, I wander on my own
Looking for a sign, or a face that I might know
I wish I knew the time, I wish I had more fight
I feel like something's wrong, that needs to be set right

The woman in this place, she always calls me Dad
Don't think that she is mine, but maybe she's a friend
She says I'm with her now, and this is my new home
But I don't really know, I still feel so alone

I say my prayers at night, and with my evening meal

I know that God is right, and I know that He is real

I hope to see him soon, why can't He see me now?

Why can't He lift me out, from this Earth-bound he-e-e-ell?

They tell me I'm not here, not where I think I am
That I don't know what is, that I'm a helpless man
The problem is for me, I don't know how to feel
I talk with many people, don't know which ones are real refrain

I wander winding paths, worn through many years
But I have gotten lost, and I'm beset by fears
Who'll help me in this place, who deserves my trust
Some woman or some god, who left me in the dust

Who'll help me in this place, who deserves my trust
Some woman or some god, who left me in the dust

Who'll help me (x2)

Help me (repeat and fade)
