G B7
Smokin' a bowl, out on the porch

C D
Hummingbird flutters, a quick back and forth

G B7
It's normal right now, up here in the North

C D
But I'm thinkin' 'bout the way things were before

The times they are changin', but not for the good
The smoke in the air is misunderstood
Livin' is harder, little by little

D
Tensions are mountin', things are more brittle

C G
And it comes into focus, into clear view

B7 C
The picture is painted, in sharply dark hues

G D C
It's hauntingly outlined, in a vivid blue

Used to be able to take a strong stand
Used to be something you could hold in your hand
When crazy was living' out back in the woods
Dressed in old rags and wearing a hood

But crazy is out now, livin' high on the hog
Hard riding shotgun, and shouting out loud
Drowning out voices of the civil and just Leaving a trail of memory dust

G
refrain, repeat last line, resolving on
